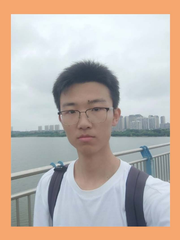
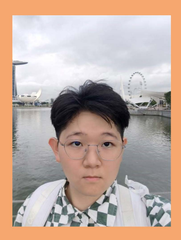
Masked & Unmasked Face Recognition



Dai Yuqi
HUST



Ding Hangfei
HEU

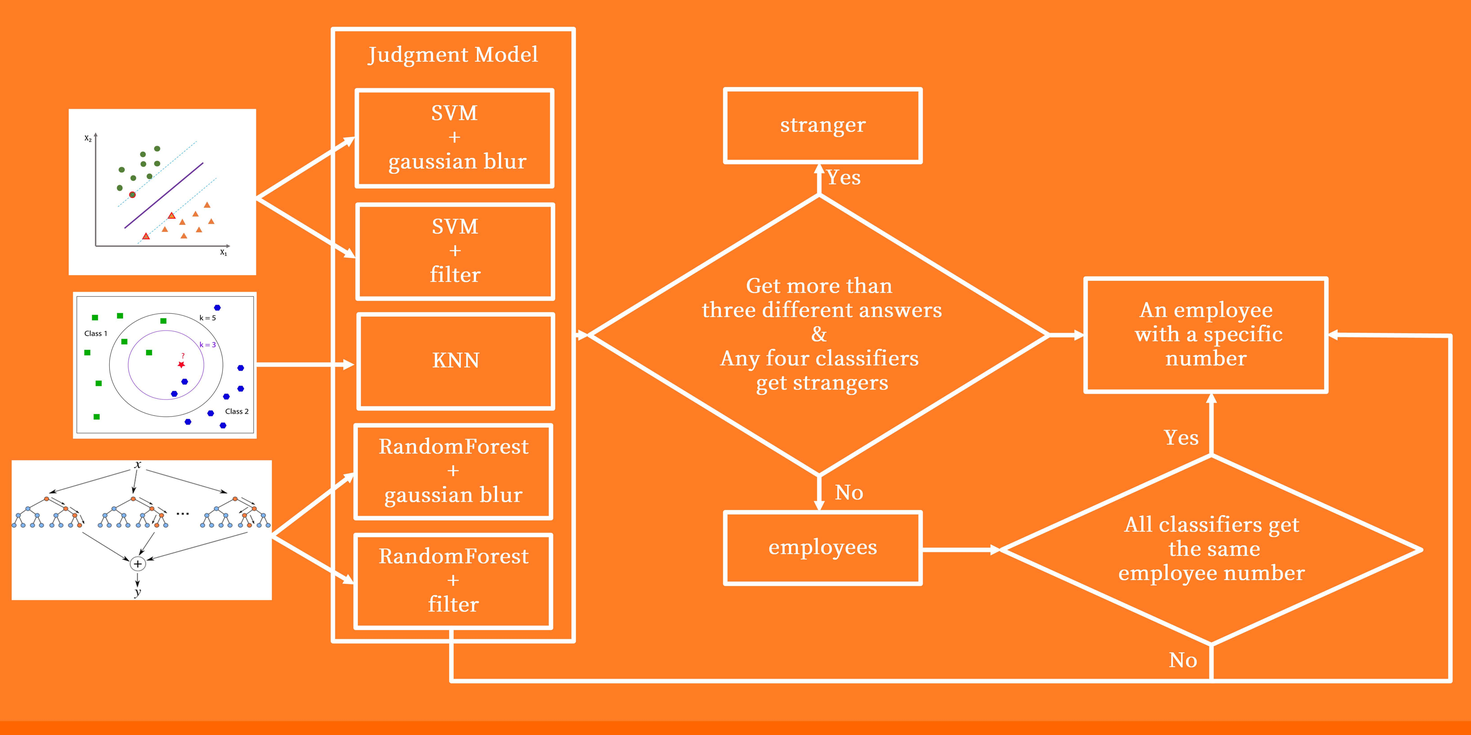
Yang Kaixian
NCU

Zhou Yuguang
BUAA

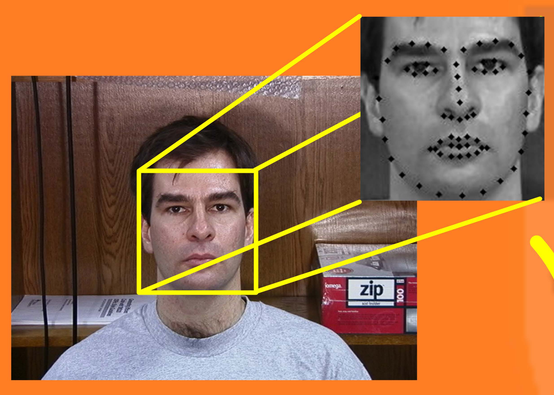
Introduction

In the past, traditional face recognition systems often encountered problems when people wore masks, leading to a decrease in accuracy and utility. Given the widespread use of masks today, the development of face recognition technologies for masked faces has become particularly crucial.

Model Structure



Pre-processing

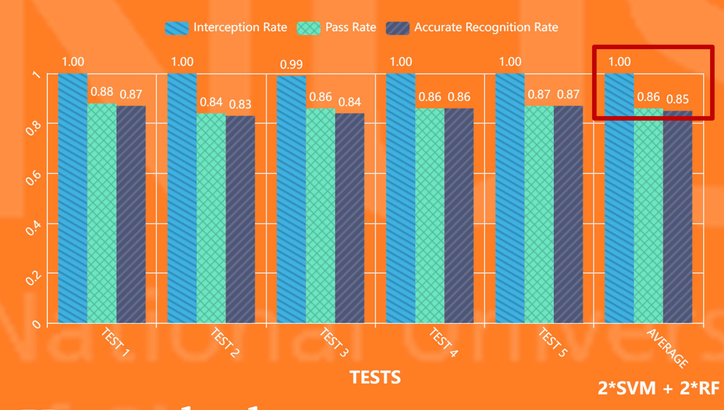


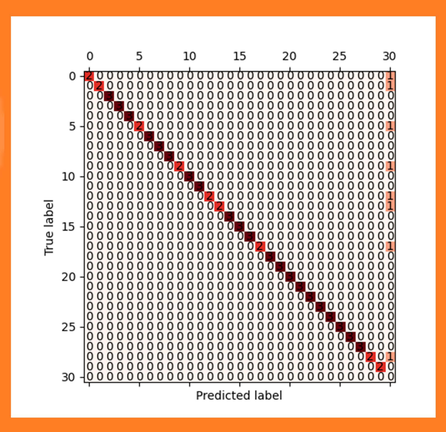
Gaussian blur

Enhance brightness

Feature extraction

Result





Unmasked

Interception rate = 100%
Pass rate = 86%
Accurate recognition rate = 85%

Interception rate = 99%
Pass rate = 82%
Accurate recognition rate = 76% masked